WHIG NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT,

William G. Crosby

OF MAINE.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

ISRAEL WASHBURN, JR.

OF MAINE.

WHIG NATIONAL CONVENTION.

At a meeting of the Whig members of the Senate and House of Representatives, held at the Hon. Willie P. Mangum's room, in the Capitol, on Tuesday evening, the 25th of May, the Hon. Willie P. Mangum was called to the chair, and Archibald Henderson, of North Carolina, and Alfred Dockery, of Virginia, and Alpheus Felch, of Michigan, were appointed Secretaries.

The following letter from the Hon. Millard Fillmore was received and read:

[Here follows the letter, declining a renomination.]

On Tuesday evening, May 25th, the Whig members of Congress assembled in the Senate Chamber, and after a full and free interchange of opinions, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Whig members of the Thirty-second Congress, in view of the fact that the Hon. Millard Fillmore, President of the United States, has declined a renomination, recommend that the Whig National Convention, to be assembled in the city of Baltimore, on the 16th day of June next, be held in the city of Baltimore, on Wednesday, the 16th day of June next.

WILLIE P. MANGUM, Chairman.

JOSEPH C. CHANDLER, } Secretaries.

Increase of Cities.

The ratio of the increase of population in the cities of that in the country is at the present time, the occasion of some remark.

Paris, since 1836 has gained 62 per cent.—France (outside of Paris) 8½ per cent. Other large Cities in France, have increased in the same ratio with Paris.

London between 1841 and 1851, increased 22 per cent. The rest of the British Islands, except Ireland, 11¼ per cent.

New York City in the last decade, increased 64,85 per cent, Brooklyn 167,29; Williamsburgh 661,24, Buffalo 132,03; Albany 66,63. The rest of the State increased in the same period 10,38 per cent.

Boston gained 46,65 per cent, the rest of Mass., 33,10 per cent.

Philadelphia advanced 74,83 per cent; Pittsburgh 110,70 per cent, while the rest of Pennsylvania gained 29 per cent.

Baltimore gained 66,23 per cent; the rest of Maryland 23 per cent.

In view of these facts, the New York Times has the following sensible comments:

"There is evidently a strong and swelling current setting from the fields to the streets; from the slower and surer gains at the farmer, to the rapid profits of the mechanic and the merchant. To-day, according to the Cincinnati Gazette, there are in 21 of the older States 24,461,982 of the rural, to 3,223,041 of the civic population; almost abnormal proportion, and each year only serves to make it still more monstrous. We cannot look to the future without serious apprehensions. The same laws and popular tendencies which have operated thus far in crowding more than half a million of people into this city, are acting with constantly accelerated velocity. They show themselves in the direct inquiries of the census takers, but in other ways as well. There are tokens of them in the newspaper, where young men, whose muscles were given over for the plough and the manage, are daily imploring employment of any civic sort. There are sad tokens of them about hotel bar-rooms, and on oyster-cellars, and in precipitately forsaken boarding-houses, where unrecepted, bills attest the need of the fugitive.

Obscure gambling-houses have some of the products, and the brothel and thief-den eventually others, and so the law runs on its course, finding the mistaken, which, quits green fields and a pure sky, in his haste to be rich, by laying upon him the penalties of poverty, and more, and physical disease.

We have repeated our deprecations of the townward tendencies of the times. They are sometimes evoked by private letters, craving advice pro or con. They are more cogently evoked by an examination of such startling figures as those above. We would join here young men apart their eyes from the glittering temptations of the city. The fatal rule of compensation is unerringly true; the greater wealth of the citizen is attained by greater expenditure of resources, and industry, and talent; and vanities in the cost of civic state and elegance.—The pleasures of the town have them a balance in premature age, and indurated sensibilities."

A Question in Ethics.

A connoisseur in rogues and watches, saw a fellow-citizen draw from his fob what he supposed was a gold watch, and being in a dickering mood, offered him twenty dollars for it. The citizen gave him the watch and took the twenty dollars. No remarks were made. After a day or two's acquaintance with the article the connoisseur discovered it to be a galvanized watch, worth five dollars or thereabouts! Meeting the seller afterwards, he remarked that when he put that watch upon him he supposed he was "only in fun."

"Of course," said the seller, "and it was very good fun indeed!"

"But you will return the money on receiving the watch?"

"When I make a fair bargain I stick to it.—The money is fairly mine, the watch yours."

The rogue catcher was caught, and the question is, was he fairly caught?—and who'd ye think he was?

More Monkeys.

The New Yorkers, if they have no "notions" of their own, have abundance of foreign. Niblo has imported from Paris learned Monkeys, Goats, &c., the result of whose wonderful training he undertook to exhibit at the Astor Place Opera House, last Monday night. The audience having assembled, Mr. Brooks, the manager, announced that an injunction had been served upon him at the instance of the owners of the building, prohibiting the performances because they were not "respectable." He however, "exhibited them sufficiently to satisfy the audience that the exhibition was not only respectable," but wonderful. The animals are very perfectly trained. One scene was a dinner party, consisting of half a dozen well trained Monkeys, that sat at the table and partook of their meal in as "respectable" a way as could be desired. They were waited upon by two other Monkeys that acted the part of servants. All were appropriately dressed.

These animals have been supported by the patronage of the European public in the first Opera Houses. Of course, they must be, by the people of New York!

Spirit of the Evening Press.

The New York Evening Post, Dem. fully comments thus upon the call for a Democratic Convention, at Worcester, on the 6th inst., signed by Henry Chapman, (published in the Express.)

"A free democrat of Massachusetts is treated by illiberal and base treatment. Mr. Rantoul received from the Convention at Baltimore, less than nothing worthy, but not less insulting, than that which New York had to endure from the Convention of 1848. Mr. Rantoul, a free democrat of Massachusetts, is represented as one of the longest democratic constituencies in the country, and where not a hand is lifted to injure it, or interfere with its free operation. I myself have seen the wires and posts in the wildest forests of America and Canada untouched. I shall not insult the people of Newfoundland by saying that there are some amongst us laboring under some grievous delusion, repugnant to common sense and to every sound religious feeling. How has the telegraph been employed of late? By the repeated losses of sum both of life and property, every heart was appalled, society was unhinged, and all our best feelings called in operation. Communications were constantly passing and repassing to and from St. John, this town and Bridges, as vessels and brows arrived, relieving the anxieties of fathers, mothers, wives, relatives and friends. The safety of crews was thereby instantly communicated to distant places, and thus brought end consolation and peace to hundreds of breaking hearts. I owe, when I reflect upon this, I am the more astonished at the repeated acts of misconduct during the past week, and I am utterly unable to discover to what such criminal conduct is to be attributed. But it is my duty, from this place, to warn every man, and I must add, from information I have received, every woman also, that injury to, or interference with the Telegraphic line involves a serious offence against the law of the land, and that heavy punishment awaits those who are found so offending. Let all parties be assured that telegraphic communication between this town and St. John is now and ever shall be maintained. Property to a large amount is invested in that undertaking; the interest of all classes from the highest to the humblest are deeply concerned in maintaining it; it is the duty of the government to protect that property and those interests against every attempt to injure or interfere with them, and I feel that I can declare that on the part of the government, no effort will be wanting in the discharge of that duty—while the judicial tribunals of the country will hereafter be compelled when guilt is established to impose such punishment as will effectually put a stop to such acts of criminal misconduct. But I would rather implore of all in time to take my advice, (and they will hereafter feel this best friend) could not give them better,—come to ensure the telegraph line if you wish to live in the bosom of your families and not be numbered for ever in a prison, and I would most earnestly invite every man who takes an interest in the welfare and prosperity of Newfoundland to exert, each in his respective sphere, whatever influence he possesses—if such this originate in follies and delusions—to dissipate them; if in wickedness to detect and bring to punishment the offenders.

From the New York Evening Mirror:

Messrs. Berford & Co.—The following letter, from a firm well known in our commercial and business circles, is as creditable and just, as it must be flattering to Messrs. Berford & Co., the enterprising Express Company. It is only one of many, similar credentials, and we take pleasure in laying it before our readers and the public.

New York, May 25, 1852.

Messrs. Berford & Co.—Gents:—Yours of the 20th inst., advising us of the shipment of the "Reaping Machine," per steamer from Panama, came to hand yesterday.

We take great pleasure in expressing our entire satisfaction, at the very prompt manner in which you have executed the difficult service of transporting across the Isthmus of this season, so heavy and cumbersome, a machine, which, on account of its irregularity and inconvenient packages, had been refused by Adams & Co., and other Expresses. It reflects great credit upon the energy and enterprise which has ever manifested itself in all the various services you have performed for yourselves and friends, and if not already so, it should be understood that with Berford & Co., nothing is impossible.

Very respectfully, your ob't. servts.

OGDEN & HAYNES.

Death of Miss Whittlesey. A letter from Dr DeForest, dated Beirut, May 5th, announces the sudden death of Miss Whittlesey, missionary teacher at Beirut, on the 1st of May last, aged about 24 years. Her disease was malignant erysipelas. She had been in Syria only 366 days, but had made great progress in acquiring the needful languages for teaching, and was intending to commence this spring teaching geography in Arabic. She was a lady of remarkably active, vigorous intellect, and devout and self-denying piety. Her life was full of promise, and her death eminently peaceful and happy.

Democratic Advocate.—This is the title of a new weekly Democratic paper, published at Danville and Auburn, (Lewiston Falls.) It is a well printed and good looking paper, and will doubtless, be quite an accession to the Democratic newspaper strength of the State. Geo. W. Chase & Co., are the publishers. First-rate men—politics aside.

The Days on Board.—The enterprising publishers, D. Appleton & Co., of New York, have published a tale bearing the above title, written by that admirable authoress, Grace Aguilar. It is spoken of as a work of deep interest. Messrs. E F Duren & Co., has it for sale.

Ingoldsby Legends.—The same publishers have issued, as one of their series of "Appleton's Popular Library," the celebrated Ingoldsby Legends, by Rev. R. H. Barham. Messrs. E. F. Duren & Co., have this work also.

☞ Mrs. Judson, (Fanny Forrester) widow of the late Dr. Judson, arrived at Utica on Wednesday of last week, on the way to Hamilton, the residence of her parents, in feeble health.

Gen. Pierce's Battles. From the official accounts it appears that Gen. Pierce was in the battles of Contreras, Churrubusco, Molino del Rey, near Chapultepec, near Belen, and at Garita de Belen.

☞ Oliver H. Hinsley, Keeper of the Hampden House, was yesterday convicted on being a common seller of intoxicating liquors. Hero Jones, of Dexter, is on trial for the same offence.

Fire at East Corinth. Last Sunday afternoon the dwelling-house of Rev. C. P. Hartlett, at East Corinth, was consumed by fire, together with most of the furniture. Loss about $7000; insured for about $2000. The fire took while Mr. H. was preaching.—[Mercury.

Whig Meeting in New York.—A telegraphic despatch to the Boston Journal, dated New York, June 9th, says: The Whig meeting at the Tabernacle was very fully attended, and much enthusiasm prevailed. Addresses in favor of the several candidates were delivered by Horace Greeley, James S. Hayes, Rosalie Tallmadge, and others. Mr. Evarts, who was chairman of the speakers, received a communication which took place at Lancaster, New Hampshire, in which Franklin Pierce said he hoped he should live to see the day when Daniel Webster should be elected President of the United States.

The Cuticello-Cotton Wool a Humbug.—The way of the Cuticello has come. Cotton wool proves to be the best article for the purpose. Why should it? Don't Cuticello's friend in Lawrence tell us that he has taken out of jail with the "cotton wool," but found his chickens and plums, mackerel, and tea shaking his sides obtained quite a crop in the little remedy. He thinks they will unanimously abundant this year. Fruit growers must resort to shaking the trees again, if they would secure any quantity of plums.

Our friend says a plan, comprising several of the sons is they're soon at the Eastern Bank, by those who wants to deal with it.

☞ A meeting of the friends of Daniel Webster for the Presidency was held at Cochituate Hall, Boston, on Wednesday evening. The meeting was addressed by Messrs. Francis Brinley, Matthew Hale Smith, Wm. Hayden, Charles Torrey and Charles A. White.

On motion of Mr. White, a committee of seventeen was appointed to nominate a list of one thousand delegates, to the National Whig Convention at Baltimore, to urge the claims of Mr. Webster for the Presidency.

The "Maine Law" in Massachusetts.—The Newburyport Herald says liquor-dealers in that city are disposing of their liquors with the view to give up the sale of them entirely when the Maine Law shall go into operation.

☞ The Commonwealth has been again shocked by the Free Soil State Central Committee as the central organ of the Free Soil party of Massachusetts.

Importance of the Telegraph.

The Chief Justice of Newfoundland recently addressed the following appeal and admonition to the people of that colony, through the Grand Jury, to abstain from malicious and wanton interruptions of the Telegraph line lately established there:

Gentlemen of the Jury—During the past week the Telegraph line between this town and Saint John has been frequently interrupted by cutting the wires and damaging the posts. To what mysterious movement this is attributable, I cannot divine! We hear and see the progress of the Electric Telegraph in other countries, and where not a hand is lifted to injure it, or interfere with its free operation. I myself have seen the wires and posts in the wildest forests of America and Canada untouched. I shall not insult the people of Newfoundland by saying that there are some amongst us laboring under some grievous delusion, repugnant to common sense and to every sound religious feeling. Congress.

Washington, June 9.

Senate. After transacting some unimportant business, the Senate on motion of Mr. Gwin took up the Joint resolution directing the Secretary of the Navy to complete the war steamers for harbor defence according to the contract with R. L. Stevens made in 1842. Mr. Underwood asked whether a contract had been made. Mr. Stockton said that a contract had been entered into—and Mr. Stephens had proceeded faithfully in the discharge of his part of it, but the Secretary of the Navy, Mr. Preston, became dissatisfied with Mr. Stevens, because he would not lay before him certain plans, &c., and because of delays.—The Secretary instead of condemning those delays ought to have approved them for they were occasioned by Mr. Stevens making at his own expense experiments in order to be sure that all was right, as he proceeded in his work. This was a great subject and the national defences would attract the attention of the country.

Mr. Hamlin said he understood up to this time that Mr. Stevens had refused to lay before the Department any plan for this vessel of steamer of what kind it was to be. This was a proposition to place a large sum of money at the disposal of Mr. Stevens, to be expanded by him as he thought proper. He wished to look into the matter, and hoped the resolution would be laid over till tomorrow. After some remarks by Messrs. Hale and Underwood.

Mr. Stockton said that Mr. Stevens had furnished a plan of his vessel when the contract was entered into. The subject was then postponed.

A message was received from the House announcing the passage of a resolve fixing the time of the adjournment of Congress. Mr. England presented a remonstrance against Mr. Whitney's rail road schemes. Also petitions in favor of the assumption of State debts, particularly of Illinois. Mr. Hamlin reported a bill conferring power on the Secretary of the Navy to grant registers to vessels in certain cases, the effect of the bill being to avoid the necessity for special legislation in such cases. Ordered to be engrossed. The resolution from the House fixing the time for the adjournment of Congress on the 16th August, coming up Mr. Hunter hoped that it would lie over. It was impossible to say when the public business could be dispensed of. He hoped Congress could adjourn sooner than the day named, but only on condition that the general appropriation bills had been reported. He moved that the resolution be laid on the table. Agreed to. The bill allowing the Utah Judges their salary, notwithstanding their absence from the territory, was received from the House with an amendment, which was concurred in by the Senate and passed.

The Senate then held an executive session and at 4 o'clock adjourned.

House. The question of reconsidering the vote laying on the table the bill granting the right of way and lands for rail roads in Iowa, came up. It was moved to lay the motion on the table—ayes 87, nays 81.

The House then by yeas of 93 yeas to 85 nays refused to reconsider the vote by which the Iowa bill was tabled. Mr. Ashe moved but the House refused to consider the Pennsylvania contested election case in which H. M. Wright contested the seat of H. M. Fuller. The House then went into Committee on the Indian appropriation bill, when Mr. Letcher gave notice that he had prepared a speech and would print it. Mr. Morehead went into a history of the last Whig caucus reviewing the manifesto of the Baltimore, and gave the reasons why he as a compromise Whig opposed any being done except declaring the time and place for holding the Whig National Convention. Mr. Orr said that South Carolina, the state which he had the honor in part to represent, although having a delegate at the late Baltimore Convention, and perhaps felt great sympathy for its friends, had thought that the nomination of Messrs. Pierce and King would meet with a cordial support in that State.

They already hold out hopes of promise of a return to the Jeffersonian era. He lauded Gen. Pierce, that brave and high-toned eulogized him for his sound republican principles and firm opposition to Northern fanaticism. The Whigs will probably nominate Gen. Scott, whose military services, (three lines of italic contemptuous. "It was Scott's occupation in peace and war, but he cannot claim a greater devotion than the man who volunteered his services in the field of battle, and when victory perched upon his banner, retired to private life, without throwing himself upon Government for support on account of past services.

Mr. Orr likewise spoke in high terms of Mr. King, endorsed the platform as containing more good than evil, and in conclusion gave his prediction that the nominees will be elected.

Mr. Mason commenced a reply to an old speech of Mr. Rantoul, about the domestic policy of the North-East. Without concluding, however, he gave way to a motion that the committee rise, which prevailed, and the House adjourned.

How to Reach the Conscience of a Chinaman.—Mr. H. DeCaldwell, a gentleman thoroughly acquainted with the Chinese character, being inquired of by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Hong Kong as to the best mode of swearing the Chinese so as to get at the truth, replied as follows:

"I think that cutting off a cock's head would be the form of oath likely to elicit the greatest amount of truth from a Chinaman, but,

1. This oath, to be administered in a manner of all binding, must be taken before the patriarch of the swearer; but Chinese have different idols, and those idols are famed, most which are supposed to be able to punish most; therefore an oath before one idol would not be so much dreaded as an oath before another idol.

2. The Chinese have no belief in a God or future state, as we understand them, therefore it would be a superstitious and not a religious fear which would restrain them. Most of them believe in idols possessing powers superior to men, and believe that after death they will inhabit the bodies of brutes or other men.

3. The idols they invoke are not at all considered to hate vice inasmuch as pirates constantly invoke their assistance in their piratical expeditions.

4. Lying, in the abstract, is not considered a sin among Chinese. If a prosecutor believe the defendant to be guilty, he will swear to any false collateral facts which he may consider necessary to prove the guilt, and he will not scruple to cut off a cock's head for this purpose.

5. The fear of the oath is to be attributed to a superstitious dread of some consequence attendant on the act itself in this world, than to any fear of punishment in the world to come. I do not think they have any fear of punishment in a future state; they may think that they will be unfortunate here.

6. This superstitious fear of performing the act, would probably deter more respectable Chinese from taking the oath in small matters. For the recovery of a small debt or the punishment of a small crime, such persons would not take an oath. Thus small debtors and small criminals would escape. Some Chinamen perhaps, would not be willing to take the oath under any circumstances.

Mr John McKeon, the Tribune informs us, was at Baltimore last week, 'going it,' after his impulsive and whole-souled fashion, for Cass and nothing short, when a by-stander remarked, "McKeon, you had better take things more quietly—you may get into trouble if you talk so freely." John scanned the large crowd of New Yorkers present with the practiced eye of an ex-District Attorney, and replied, "No, sir, I think I know where I am, and who are about me. There, for example, is J S, whom I once convicted of aggravated assault and battery, resulting in homicide; there is M M, whom I tried for a felony; there is I R, whom I tried for conspiracy and convicted of not; there is J A, whom I tried for murder—and so on for a score or two. I don't believe there is another man present who has so many tried friends about him as I have, and I shall say just what I please."

California Exports. The movement Californiaward is overland, says the Galena Advertiser, is a perfect astonishment. Teams are constantly passing on all the routes across the Mississippi. A gentleman from Mineral Point says that three hundred persons have left that town this spring, and from Dodgeville one half the inhabitants have gone. The emigration this year exceeds that of 1849.

Turkey to Mr Pierce.

The following is a copy of the address and speeches in the House of Representatives on the occasion of presenting a copy of the Revised Statutes to Mr Piper.—The statutes were neatly bound in American Calf, and were dedicated

To
Honorable Simon Piper of Stark,
Who sustained through
The perilous Legislature of 1852
The character of a brave man and a
Christian Representative,
This volume is most sincerely inscribed
As a very slight token of esteem,
By the State of Maine.

Geo. B. Sewall, Speaker.

By the Speaker, E. W. Flagg, Clerk.

Mr Piper, on accepting the token of esteem pressed it to his bosom, and returned his thanks to the House, as the reporter understood, nearly as follows:

That he accepted the token in the same spirit that dictated the action of the honorable body in the offering; he knew that above all, that closed. That he regarded it as a sincere token of respect and gratitude, and for it he thanked the House most heartily. That he hoped that our actions would be reviewed by our constituents, as would ultimately accord our election to that Hall where no illegitimate questions were allowed to enter, to disturb the quiet of the harmonious whole and the questions of Reform School shall be decided to be an obsolete idea.

The above remarks were heard in deathly silence, only interrupted by the throbs of the great Heart of the House.

It will ever be a memorable era in the history of Maine Legislation.—Farmington Chronicle.

Spiritual Settlement—Curious Movement.

On Friday we met with a gentleman from Western Virginia, making purchases of Dry Goods and Groceries for a store, the connections with which are worth noting.

A colony of sixty persons gathered from Northampton, Mass., Brooklyn and Auburn N. York, all firm believers in what is termed the Spiritual Philosophy, (announced by A J Davis, et al.) has purchased 9,000 acres of land in a splendid location, about 40 miles from the head of steamboat navigation on the Kanawha, and 50 miles from Charleston, Va., upon which they have settled. They each manage steward of his own substance, "maintaining Unity of Faith in the Bonds of Peace."

In general they receive all spiritual and temporal advice from the spirit world, although they do not consider directions from this source infallible, but merely "communication" to the test of reason. Most of the parties interested in this movement are men of some wealth, and all are said to be well educated and refined people. The object stated is spiritual and integral development, which they expect to promote by living in one community.

On the property purchased, are mills, a tavern stand, post office and store, and it is for the latter that our informant was purchasing supplies. Among the emigrants is Rev. T. L. Harris of New York, who is to edit a weekly paper soon to be established by the Society.—Cincinnati Gazette.

Supreme Court,

Kennebec Co., June 7, 1852.

Opinions in the following cases heretofore argued in Penobscot County, were read

Ballo French vs. Edward D. Peters. Action for Boom Tenant defaulted. Moody for Pltf., Peters for deft. The Plaintiff by a deed in fee conveyed to the defendant certain premises in Exchange-Corner House, in this city.

Columbia Cooper vs. Joseph V. Bakeman. Ditto. Exceptions sustained, and new trial granted. Rowe & Bridges for Pltf. Cutting for deft.—Mercury.

☞ The Steamer, United States, heretofore advertised to sail from New York for San Francisco on the 23d June, will not sail till the 2d day of July. See advertisement.

General Pierce and Daniel Webster.—It is related in the Lowell Courier, that when Mr. Webster last year gave a social dinner at his farm in New Hampshire, Gen. Pierce, who was present, is recorded to have said, that in Massachusetts he rejected the great statesman, the Democracy of New Hampshire would take him up, and bear him aloft so high that his feet would touch the stars!—[Boston Traveler.

☞ A lady, the wife of one of the coolish aristocrats of New York, on dispensing with the services of a faithful servant girl, gave her the following recommendation:

"Madam that Day lived with me was yare an keren mouth cookin washing and cleanin and is a useful kind of body is very smart as I never new her to be in liaker and she does her bisness right in the kitchen, arter nine o'clock."

Clapboard Planing!

A Challenge!

THE subscribers are running one of Woodbury's Stationary Knife machines for planing Clapboard, and claim to be able to plane all kinds and qualities better than can be done by any other method now known. And as in a recent estimate for a contract to build the new High School House in this city a stipulation was inserted that "the Clapboards should be planed by hand," thereby intimating that HAND-PLANING is superior to MACHINE—we hereby challenge any person to plane any quantity of Clapboards from 100 upward, by hand, (a fair day's work being done,) against the like quantity planed by us with our machine.

A committee of three practical workmen, mutually chosen, to decide the merits of the work, and whose decision the losing party shall forfeit to the other

FIFTY DOLLARS.

We wish to have all kinds and qualities of Clapboard WET as well as dry, submitted to this test. We will show our great superiority on the poorest as well as the best quality

Original Our State

Cooking Stove!

THIS STOVE is manufactured by the Subscribers, with all the care that a large experience in the Stove trade of this city, would indicate, and we assure our customers and the public that no pains or expense has been spared to make this one of the very best Cooking Stoves ever offered for sale in Bangor.

We have dressed this Stove of all superficies which nothing but the superior quality of work in moulding would allow, and it now presents a beautiful, neat and plain exterior, which of all things, has been most desired by our best House-keepers. The above united with its great capacity for Cooking, renders us safe in saying that the whole combined art of Stove makers cannot successfully compete with the in its beauty of Castings, neatness of design, strength, quality and quantity of material and its great size and capacity of its Oven, which will contain at one time 5 of the largest size pie plates.

Our extent sales on this Stove last season was more than 300 and we invariably warranted them to suite our customers 30 days, and not one was returned.

We hold ourselves pledged to furnish promptly all Castings that may be wanted to repair.

We warrant this Stove to prove satisfactory under all circumstances, and are willing to put them up at our own expense, on a trial of four weeks.

THE best Cook stove ever introduced to the public by any other people.

Having secured the sole agency of this very desirable Stove, I take great pleasure in calling the attention of my customers and the public generally to the same. This Stove was invented expressly for the eastern market, by the most experienced and expert Stove manufacturers Messrs. Eastes & Whittier, who have, and have appreciated the want of this entire town people. It is now offered to the public with the fullest confidence in its merits, and as a property for every other Cooking apparatus ever introduced. Its convenience for Baking, Broiling, Frying, &c., are not surpassed, and in the extensive and beautiful Oven for Baking and Roasting, we would most recommend itself to the ladies. One very important feature is, it has very strong and smooth castings and is simple, unlike in the city, can at all times be repaired, if ever necessary, at a trifling expense as it is not necessary to wait for castings to be ordered from New York, Rhode Island, or elsewhere. Every Stove is warranted one year, and if not giving entire satisfaction may be returned & the money will be refunded after 30 days trial.

—ALSO—

All of any of which will be sold at extremely low prices.

Elevated Oven Stoves—Hampden Stand 4 Boiler and two Oven—Boston two oven Stoves, Forrest-Queen, &c.—and that very beautiful pattern of Cottage Parlor Cook Stove; and in fact every variety of Stoves for Cooking or warming, worthy of notice can be found at the Central Street Stove and Furniture Depot, No 15, 17, and 19

R H. LIDDY, Prop'r of Steam Mills.

WASHINGTON, JUNE 21, 1849.

During the first session of the 30th Congress, the undersigned, as Commissioner of Patents, had the honor to submit to Congress a report upon the business of the Patent Office, and a bill for the better regulation of the Patent System of the United States. There were many reasons existing at that time which rendered such legislation necessary, and which seemed to press so much to have before the close of the session. Though there were those who considered the bill a measure of great importance, and of great value to the country, it was not deemed expedient to act upon it at that session.

Since that time, the defects in the present system have been more fully developed, and the necessity of amending the law more apparent. The bill has been carefully revised, and is now before Congress, with the recommendation of the Committee on Patents, that it do pass. I have no doubt that it will become a law during the present session of Congress.

The bill proposes to reduce the fees required by law to be paid on the filing of applications for patents, and on the issuing of patents, to the following rates:

On filing each original application for a patent, except in design cases, $15
On issuing each original patent, except in design cases, $15
On filing each application for the extension of a patent, $20
On issuing each patent for the extension of a patent, $20
On filing each application for a design, $10
On issuing each patent for a design for three and a half years, $10
On issuing each patent for a design for seven years, $15
On issuing each patent for a design for fourteen years, $20
On filing each caveat, $10
On filing each application for the reissue of a patent, $15
On issuing each reissued patent, $15
On filing each disclaimer, $10
On every certificate and copy of any paper not specially enumerated, $1

The bill also proposes to allow to the Commissioner of Patents a salary of $3,000 per annum, instead of $1,500, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Clerks employed in the Patent Office, such salaries as the Secretary of the Interior may think just and proper, not exceeding those now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Librarian of the Patent Office a salary of $1,200 per annum, instead of $1,000, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Messenger of the Patent Office a salary of $800 per annum, instead of $600, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Assistant Messenger of the Patent Office a salary of $600 per annum, instead of $500, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Watchman of the Patent Office a salary of $600 per annum, instead of $500, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Assistant Watchman of the Patent Office a salary of $500 per annum, instead of $400, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Model Keeper of the Patent Office a salary of $600 per annum, instead of $500, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Assistant Model Keeper of the Patent Office a salary of $500 per annum, instead of $400, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Draughtsman of the Patent Office a salary of $1,000 per annum, instead of $800, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Assistant Draughtsman of the Patent Office a salary of $800 per annum, instead of $600, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Machinist of the Patent Office a salary of $800 per annum, instead of $600, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Assistant Machinist of the Patent Office a salary of $600 per annum, instead of $500, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Examiners of the Patent Office salaries of $1,500 per annum, instead of $1,200, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Chief Clerk of the Patent Office a salary of $1,500 per annum, instead of $1,200, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Principal Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $1,400 per annum, instead of $1,200, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Second Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $1,300 per annum, instead of $1,200, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Third Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $1,200 per annum, instead of $1,000, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Fourth Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $1,100 per annum, instead of $1,000, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Fifth Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $1,000 per annum, instead of $900, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Sixth Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $900 per annum, instead of $800, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Seventh Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $800 per annum, instead of $700, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Eighth Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $700 per annum, instead of $600, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Ninth Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $600 per annum, instead of $500, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Tenth Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $500 per annum, instead of $400, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Eleventh Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $400 per annum, instead of $300, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Twelfth Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $300 per annum, instead of $200, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Thirteenth Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $200 per annum, instead of $100, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Fourteenth Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $100 per annum, instead of $100, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Fifteenth Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $100 per annum, instead of $100, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Sixteenth Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $100 per annum, instead of $100, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Seventeenth Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $100 per annum, instead of $100, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Eighteenth Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $100 per annum, instead of $100, as now allowed by law.

The bill also proposes to allow to the Nineteenth Assistant Examiner of the Patent Office a salary of $100 per annum, instead of $100, as now allowed by law.
